9. QUESTION: (INCLUDE SCENARIO IF NEEDED FOR CLARITY):

A client is receiving a settlement income from ex-spouse in one payment annually. In the divorce decree, it is stated that the income is intended to be a tax-free inter-spousal transfer related to the cessation of marriage to effect a division of marital property under Internal Revenue code section 1041. According to this section of the Internal Revenue Code the income is to be treated as a gift.

The client receives a payment every January. The amount varies because it depends on the amount ex-wife makes annually. In 01/2014 he received $26,050.00.

Our question is, how should we treat this income? Is it countable or excluded?

10. REQUESTOR'S PROPOSED ANSWER:

If we treat this income as a gift, this income should be countable and as it is an annual payment the amount should be averaged and spread over the 12 months of the year. This is following the same guidelines as lottery winnings paid on an annual basis as described in ACIN I-58-08.

11. STATE POLICY RESPONSE (CFPB USE ONLY):

The settlement payment shall be treated as unearned income in the month it is received. MPP Section 63-502.144 specifies that unearned income shall include support or alimony payments made directly to the household from non-household members. To be considered a resource, the income would need to be a non-recurring lump sum payment consistent with MPP Section 63-501.111. Any portion of the income that is unspent following the month of receipt shall be treated as a resource and shall be excluded when determining CalFresh eligibility provided the client qualifies for Modified Categorical Eligibility (MCE) defined in All County Letter 11-11. To qualify for MCE, a household must receive the TANF/MOE-funded "Family Planning – PUB 275" brochure or be directed to the brochure online.
